POLICE ENJOINED FROM PREVENTING SUNDAY BASEBALL

Injunctions Served on Commissioners and Major Sylvester Pave Way for "Feds."

DISTRICT HEADS DECLARE
THEY WELCOME A RULING

R. P. Andrews Team Will Meet
Baltimore Team Tomorrow
at Old Union League Park.

Plans of the Commissioners to put a stop to Sunday baseball in the District were checked at once today when they and the superintendent of police were served with injunctions restraining them from interfering with the game scheduled to take place tomorrow between the R. P. Andrews team and the Baltimore Federals.

Hearings on the injunction will not take place before May 21, and in the meantime the police are powerless to carry out the orders of the Commissioners to put a stop to tomorrow's game. The injunction was signed by Justice Goff.

No Rules On Case.

While there is no specific regulation governing Sunday baseball in the District, William P. Richards, District assessor, acting on advice of the corporation counsel, had declined to grant a permit for the game tomorrow. Mr. Richards said that this policy was to be carried out with all applications for permits for Sunday games.

Following the serving of the injunctions, Commissioner Siddons, who has general supervision of the Police Department, said that of course the order of the court would be respected, and that the police would make no effort to break up the game.

A small blaze about noon today at Andrews Park, Fifteenth and H streets northeast, where the game will be played tomorrow, led to an exaggerated report that an attempt had been made to burn down the stands. Investigation by the police developed that a pile of trash, raked up by workmen who are putting the finishing touches on the park, had caught fire. The blaze was extinguished without calling out the fire department. No damage was done.

Decline to Be Quoted.

While the Commissioners declined to be quoted as to the policy which they intend to pursue in the future, it was said they would welcome from the court a ruling governing not only Sunday baseball, but vaudeville, motion picture shows, and all other Sunday amusements.

Whether the avowed intention of the Commissioners is to put a stop to Sunday baseball, or whether they are simply saying that they would welcome a ruling that would make clear their status in handling such matters, was pointed out by the fact that under the present law the Commissioners are practically powerless to prevent Sunday performances at the theaters, and therefore could not be prosecuted for conducting unlicensed amusement places on the Sabbath.

Corporation Counsel Conrad H. Sykes said today that in the injunction Sunday baseball and certain other amusements could not be stopped by the Commissioners under section 12, article 12, of the police regulations.

This section provides that "no owner, proprietor, licensee, tenant, or other person shall on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, permit, allow or take part in any manner in any public exhibition of any entertainment, play, opera, circus, animals, gymnastics, games, dance, or vaudeville performance of any kind, except the exhibition of moving pictures, vocal or instrumental music, or singing by a single or single artists, or lectures in character costume, lectures and speakers."

This section, Mr. Sykes said, is in his opinion, sufficiently broad to prohibit Sunday baseball. "If, however, it is held differently by the courts," he said, "it is my belief that the Commissioners will have authority to adopt an amendment to the police regulations, which will cover the subject."

PAN-AMERICANS TO SEE SIGNING

Representatives of all nations affiliated with the Pan-American Union have been invited by President Wilson to be present at the White House late this afternoon. At that time the President will sign the two bills recently passed by Congress raising to embassies the legations in Argentina and Chile. Secretary of State Bryan is expected to be present.

It is the intention of the Administration to make the occasion as formal as possible because the representatives of the nations here in Washington form a majority of the mediation board which is trying to settle the Mexican difficulty.

SUFFRAGIST HELPS TO CONVICT BECKER

Inez Mitholland Boissevain Induced Widow of "Lefty Louie" to Testify.

NEW YORK, May 16.—It became known today that Inez Mitholland Boissevain, lawyer woman suffragist and publicist, induced Mrs. Lillian Rosenberg widow of the dead gunman, "Lefty Louie," to testify against former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker at yesterday's session of the trial.

Waiting for the promised dropping of the bombshell into Becker's defense, Mrs. Rosenberg, Mrs. Boissevain sat among the reporters at the hearing. Not once did she give a hint of what was coming, that the guilt of the executed gunman would be admitted by the wife of his leader.

Came to Get Work.

"Mrs. Rosenberg came to me to aid her to get work," said Mrs. Boissevain. "I advised her to tell the truth. The impression may have been created that Mrs. Rosenberg was revengeful; that she was determined to get even with Becker because he had failed to free the gunman. That should be corrected. At no time did Mrs. Rosenberg express to me any hatred of Lieutenant Becker. On the other hand she had no special love for Mr. Whitman. I believe, she testified in spite of that. Who he is or what he will do is not a matter of concern to me. I know that she desired to tell the truth in the interest of justice."

One more witness for the State waits the call. It is reported that the story of this man will be a blow for Becker. Who he is or what he will do is not a matter of concern to me. I know that she desired to tell the truth in the interest of justice."

Reports were current today that Becker will be the first witness in his own behalf. These reports could not be verified from counsel for the prisoner, and their accuracy is doubted. That Becker will stake his all on ability to withstand Whitman's fierce attack as the first witness, is believed unlikely. It is more probable that Becker first will make every effort to other witnesses to discredit the information. If this fails, Mrs. Becker is scheduled to testify. Then, if all hope seems gone, Becker will brave Whitman's tearing assaults, and by his own words, try to save himself from the electric chair.

Bryan to Investigate Italian Flag Insult

The Italian ambassador today took up with Secretary Bryan the alleged tearing down of the Italian flag by two American sailors at Philadelphia yesterday. Bryan would not announce what demands have been made, but said only that the department is investigating.

NATION PAYS ITS BELATED TRIBUTE TO GREAT SEAMAN

Commodore John Barry's Statue Is Unveiled Today at Notable Assemblage.

NAVAL PARADE FEATURE OF THE DAY'S CEREMONY

President Wilson to Speak.
Secretary Daniels Presiding
at the Unveiling.

To the pages of American history, on which are written the valorous deeds of Commodore John Barry—those achievements which laid the foundation of the American navy's present prestige—the memory of the thousands, who lived the city's streets, turned this afternoon as they witnessed the passage of the parade in connection with the unveiling of the statue of the illustrious American seaman.

"I serve the country for nothing," the remark made by the distinguished sailor on one occasion, when he was asked why he fought in the Revolutionary cause, came to the tongue of more than one in the great concourse who sang the hero's praises.

President Reviews Parade.

Promptly at 2:30 o'clock the parade, to the strains of martial music played by the United States Marine Band, started on its way to the scene of the unveiling on the fourteenth street side of Franklin Park.

Here in the reviewing stands before the flag-draped heroic statue of the Revolutionary naval commander, the President of the United States, members of the Cabinet, and other institutions of the Government are assembled. Here, too, are gathered the flower of Irish-American citizenship, delegations from more than a score of the leading Irish-American societies from every section of the country. Added to this multitude, will be the hundreds who participated in the parade.

While the occasion is one Irish-American in character, because of the birth and ancestry of the man to whom the tribute is being paid, and those who are participating in the largest number there are hundreds of others joining. The United States is paying belated tribute, and, as the sun sinks to rest, the memory of the one it represents in the National Capital.

Led by the United States Marine Band.

FEDERALS PREPARE TO QUIT GUAYMAS

Famine Prevails in Mexican Town, According to a Report From Howard.

Admiral Howard reported to the Navy Department today that he has information that the Mexican federals are preparing to evacuate Guaymas. Famine prevails there, Howard said, and at Mazatlan skirmishing between rebels and federals continues with considerable mortality. The water supply at Mazatlan is giving out, and much sickness prevails.

Babe Born Dead Restored to Life in 14 Minutes

What is believed by surgeons to have been one of the most remarkable resuscitation operations in the history of medical science was performed at the Columbia Hospital a few days ago. A dead, but as it proved, resuscitated, after all signs of life had been extinct for fourteen minutes.

Not only are mother and child both doing well, but the doctors say there is every indication the infant will grow to be a healthy adult.

The operating surgeon was Dr. J. S. Storer, of St. Michael's church, and the remarkable operation was made possible by a new resuscitating apparatus, which is particularly adapted for use in cases of child birth. It is the last word in resuscitating apparatus, and its successful use indicates that it can be used in all cases which heretofore were regarded as practically hopeless, doctors say.

When the child was delivered its body was black, its pulse was still, and there was not a sign of life in it. The lungs were immediately applied. For fourteen minutes the infant remained apparently dead.

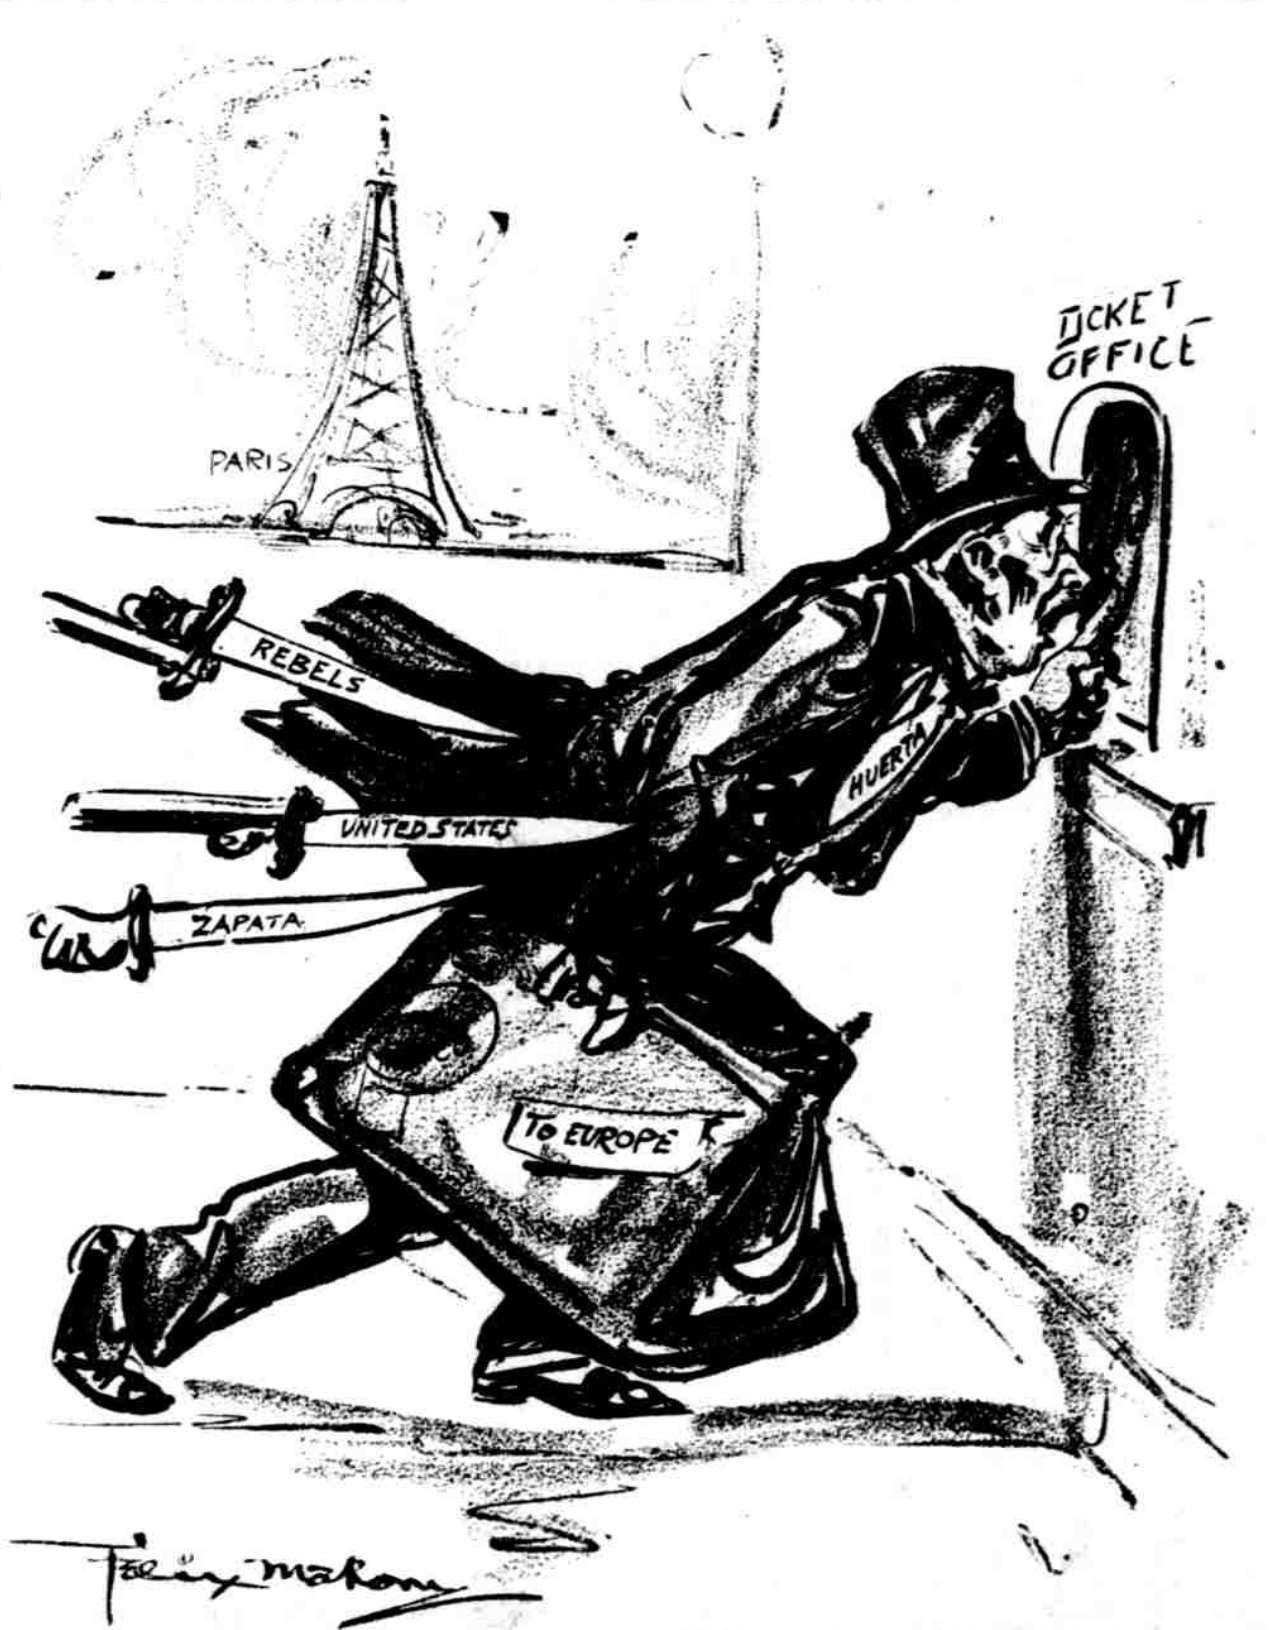

Then it was noticed the infant began to show signs of life. The child seemed to be breathing and a faint pulse was detected. In a few minutes more, life had been fully restored.

While the name of the child's mother is withheld at the hospital, it was said today that the case came from out of the city, and that the mother and child were both in such life shape that the husband, who accompanied his wife to Washington, returned home last night.

Dr. J. O. Skinner, superintendent of the hospital, said today that while the case was a private one and he did not feel at liberty to reveal the details of his profession, to divulge the name of the patient, the operation had proved the merits of the new resuscitating machine, which was only recently purchased by the hospital. Dr. Skinner said that while it was constructed along the general lines of the machine, it had many improvements of a scientific nature which made it especially adaptable for use in cases of child birth.

Dr. Skinner said he had never heard of a case where life had been restored after such a long period.

WANT FINGERS IN "PIE" AT LIBRARY

Democratic Senators Desire
Chance to Dictate Holders of Positions.

The controversy over appointments of employees of the Library of Congress will probably come up on the floor of the Senate in connection with the legislative, executive, and judicial bill.

For months there has been a clash between Librarian Herbert Putnam and some of the Democratic Senators, because Mr. Putnam, under the law, is given full control of the Library, including appointments, and he refuses to make appointments on recommendation of Senators or House members unless he sees fit to do so.

When the legislative bill is considered, it was stated today on good authority, an amendment will be offered providing that the employees of the Library of Congress shall be divided proportionately among the States.

If this amendment is brought in, a now proposed bill might be altered. It will be assumed as another effort on the part of Senate Democrats to obtain spoils.

If the provision to promote the employees among the States is beaten, the plan of putting them under civil service may be proposed. This would not be done from any friendliness to the civil service, but because it may mean to be the only way of lessening Mr. Putnam's authority.

Senator Martin of New Jersey said today that Librarian Putnam wielded too much power.

"We want to find some plan to limit his power," he said.

In the Library service there are 211 employees. Many of them have special knowledge on particular subjects. The Librarian is in the best position to select the best men for the job.

Mr. Putnam is convinced that if the plan to divide the employees among the States is carried out, it will be a serious blow to the Library.

WHHEELING, W. Va., May 16.—"Think up, boys, no stock up" is the slogan that greets the eyes of patrons in Wheeling saloons. Another slogan: "WHEELER FOREVER FOR WEST."

Long day, cold, and wind, with wet July 1. Now only forty-five wet days.

Wholesale and retail liquor dealers are advertising bargain sales in beer and bottles, which soon will be sold at about one-fourth the usual market quotations.

A majority of the 120 saloonkeepers here appear to accept the situation cheerfully, but predict that one of the immediate effects of prohibition will be the shutting of many saloons with thousands of real estate values, and to form a definite trend toward ruin.

Tuxpam Captured By Rebel Forces

Tuxpam, sixty miles from Tampico, fell into the hands of the rebels Thursday, according to information from Spanish refugees given to Consul Canada at Vera Cruz. They said Generals Aguillar and Blanco were the captors.

John R. Silliman, American vice consul at Saltillo, is safe and on his way to Mexico City, according to information to the State Department from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City today.

The dispatch said that Silliman was due to arrive in the capital either last night or this morning, but that his delay was probably due to the tearing up of railroad tracks between Saltillo and Mexico City.

The official notification said: "I am informed that Silliman left Saltillo on the 14th and unless the line is interrupted should reach Mexico City or the night of the 15th or the morning of the 16th. Not yet able to locate Correspondent Doster, but still making inquiry."

What Montessori Methods Are Doing Here

Did you know that Montessori methods with classes similar to those on the east side of New York had been quietly instituted in Washington? J. R. Hildebrand tells of these classes at Friendship House, and the boon to mothers who must go out to work.

The parcel post promises to become the greatest single factor in reducing the cost of living by eliminating the middleman and permitting the producer and consumer to deal directly with each other. An article in The Sunday Times will tell how Uncle Sam has arranged a means of delivering produce fresh from the farm to the city consumer.

Indians Versus the Castles.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle met members of the Blackfoot Indian tribe in St. Paul the other day, and gave them an exhibition of their dancing. As a return compliment the Indians gave a dance to the Castles. This interesting meeting of the very old and the very new is told in The Sunday Times by Florence E. Yoder.

BRYAN WOULD QUET INDIGNATION OVER THE MURDER OF PARKS

Has Implicit Faith in Mediation Conference.
Would Add American's Death to List for Final Settlement With Mexican Dictator.

With abiding faith in additional assurances received this morning from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City that American Vice Consul John R. Silliman has been set free, peace advocates in the Administration are using strenuous efforts to stem the tide of indignation arising from the reported torture and execution of Private Samuel Parks, of the Twenty-eighth Infantry.

Despite the fact that, at the direction of President Wilson, Secretary of State Bryan has sent a peremptory note to Huerta in reference to the Parks' case, he is determined, if possible, to prevent the use of this case as an occasion for the renewal of hostilities.

Mr. Bryan and others of the same disposition in the President's Cabinet insist that it would be most unwise for the United States to jeopardize the prospects of mediation. Others like Secretary of War Garrison frankly admit that the Parks' incident is a cause for grave concern. Still others in the Cabinet fail to see in mediation any particularly promising prospects to be jeopardized.

FAITH IN MEDIATION.

SHERMAN BECOMES HEAD OF MARKETS

Former Washington Man Succeeds the Late Col. Haskell as Superintendent.

On recommendation of the Division of Markets, of the Department of Agriculture, the Commissioners today appointed John H. Sherman Superintendent of Weights, Measures, and Markets, to succeed the late Col. W. C. Haskell. Mr. Sherman is at present employed with Harrison Emerson, efficiency engineer, New York City. He is expected to arrive in Washington tomorrow, and will take up his new duties Monday. The position pays $2,500 a year.

Mr. Sherman was born in Fairfax County, Va. His early life was spent on a farm, and one of his duties was to carry market produce to a stand in the Center Market occupied by his family.

A Democrat in politics, he was graduated from the Central High School in 1904, with the rank of captain of his class. He entered Cornell University, specializing in economics and transportation, with a postgraduate course in economic statistics and social science. Mr. Sherman was employed for two years on railroad work in Pennsylvania, inspecting perishable products.

In the efficiency engineering field, for two years Mr. Sherman specialized on distribution of products. He aided John Purroy Mitchell in his majority campaign last winter.

Douglas Seeks Divorce From Truly Shattuck

DETROIT, Mich., May 16.—Truly Shattuck's husband, Stephen, a Louisa, still loved her, but he appeared before Judge Codd in an effort to obtain a legal separation from the actress on the grounds of desertion. The principal witness for him was Miss Shattuck's maid, Miss Nellie M. Brown, of White Plains, N. J. While Douglas told of his attempts to bring back his actress wife, she was on her way to Europe.

Douglas says he and Miss Shattuck were married in Elizabeth, N. J., November 21, 1906. Douglas said he was worth about $50,000 then. Now he is working as a salesman.

Coxey Expects to Be Here Tuesday With "Army"

FREDERICK, Md., May 16.—Deserted by all his "army" except six privates, Gen. Jacob Coxey arrived here today, holding to his plan upon Washington. He expects to reach Washington Tuesday or Wednesday.

The "General" Mr. Coxey, and his daughter headed the motley cavalcade today. Their son on a donkey, and a bugler and drummer on foot followed.

New and Improved Service Southern Railway. Through the Valley of Virginia, life-size train No. 21 will leave Washington 7:45 P. M. for Harrisonburg and stations beyond. May 17th, new collection and local stations therefrom to Charlottesville leave Washington 1:05 P. M. as at present. Daily except Sunday. No. 17, local to Warrenton will leave Washington 5:05 P. M. on and after May 18th, instead of 4:55 P. M.—Advt.

President Wilson holds to the view that there is no justification, at present, for a reopening of hostilities. From present indications, the Parks outrage, even though it be shown, as reported, that the man was burned to death, will simply be added to the score against Huerta in the grand total of grievances to be laid before the mediators, if used, if necessary, to justify the United States in eventually declaring war.

Bryan's faith in mediation is implicit. He looks to it not only to bring about the elimination of Huerta, but to result in the permanent peace against Huerta in the grand total of grievances. If not quite so optimistic, at least that before mediation can demonstrate its failure, Villa and Carranza will have reached Mexico City.

The condition of Americans remaining in Mexico City is again reaching grave proportions. Reports reaching here daily to the effect that Huerta has lost his grip and that his soldiers are showing signs of disloyalty, suggest in instance the prospect of a mob uprising in the capital. Except for the protection which may be afforded them by American representatives of other foreign powers in Mexico City they would be at the mercy of the Spanish ministers.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon, President Wilson, in the presence of the Argentine and Chilean ambassadors, signed the bills raising the United States legations in Buenos Ayres and Valparaiso to the rank of embassies. The Argentine and Chilean ministers at two of the three mediators who will seek to settle the Mexican conflict at Niagara Falls. The ceremony this afternoon, arranged by Director John Barrett, of the Pan-American Union, was a most interesting and delicate compliment to these mediators.

According to reports reaching Washington from Mexico City by way of Vera Cruz, Huerta has reached a point where he is willing to eliminate himself temporarily from the government of Mexico, but under conditions that are hardly likely to be accepted by the United States. His insistence that he should be allowed to nominate his successor, that Carranza and Villa should not be considered, that he himself should be permitted to run for reelection next July, qualify his concession to an extent that its acceptance by the United States would be an immediate array the constitutionalists against the results of mediation.

Bryan Admits "Urgent" Messages to Huerta

Secretary of State Bryan declares today his representations to the Huerta government in the Parks case as "urgent," while he would not specify the exact nature of these demands, he declared they bore solely on the point of the Huerta government's prelate withholding of information.

Although Mr. Bryan would not give out the information on which Secretary of War Garrison yesterday said that the Huerta government was "dead," it was announced, through other channels, that this was a telegram from the Brazilian minister giving him apparently authoritative "understanding" that the order is dead.

Bryan declared he rapidly has come in answer to the representations.
